RE: Sudbury SHI Projections for 2020 and beyond

This memo is an update of the estimates from November 2016. At that time, we projected that Sudbury would likely exceed the 10% Subsidized Housing Inventory (SHI) with the approvals of permits for Avalon, Coolidge Phase 2, and Meadow Walk. Since that time, Coolidge Phase 2 approved and added to the SHI and we have obtained updated information on building permits from the Census Bureau which allowed us to refine our projection for the total year round units in 2020.

With the addition of the Coolidge Phase 2 units, Sudbury increased its percentage from 10.27% to 11.21% on the State's Subsidized Housing Inventory (SHI), with 664 affordable units in the numerator and 6,165 year round housing units in the denominator, 47 units over the 10% threshold.

This analysis and our previous analysis estimate that the only other affordable units that Sudbury will add will be 2 units under the Home Preservation program. Therefore our projection of 666 affordable units in 2020 is the same. However, our estimate of year round units is 35 units lower. This is a result of:

1. 30 fewer units reported to the Census Bureau to 7/1/17 than we projected,
2. 5 fewer units projected from 7/17 to 4/20. We continue to project 15/unit/year of organic growth but our projections are better aligned with the calendar year than previously.

The net effect of the update is that Sudbury's projected SHI in 2020 will be 10.14% with a margin of 8 units versus our previous projection of 10.08% with a margin of 5.
